

Christo, Running Fence, Sonoma and Marin Counties, CA, 1972-76, The Tom Golden Collection, The Museum of Sonoma County, Santa Rosa, CA, 2001.51.20

This week, Museum Stories is blown away with art by Christo and Jeanne-Claude. Watch the short video for some fun with outdoor art, a book and an art project!

LOOK

This is a picture of an artwork called Running Fence. Can you see the material used to make this fence? It is fabric! Look again at this very long fence. Stretch out your arms as long as the fence, and wiggle your body like the fence as it zigzags through the landscape. Look again at the picture. This fence is blowing in the wind. Take a big breath and try to blow over the fence!

READ

This week, the book recommendation is Kite Day by Will Hillenbrand. Join a bear and mole as they discover the perfect day to fly a kite. The best day is one with lots of wind. Read along to learn what happens when the wind blow and the sky turns dark!

MAKE

Follow along with the video for instructions to make an art project.

VBMA educators created this lesson plan.

Family Programs are supported by:

Presenting Sponsor: 1830 Foundation, Publix Super Markets Charities, Warren and Virginia Schwerin

Business Partner Sponsor: Mason Investment Advisory Services

Business Supporting Sponsor: Rock City Gardens

Additional Support: Betty Reed Memorial Endowment for Youth Programs, Bonnie Sacerdote