

Isaac Mizrahi

Isaac Mizrahi has spent over 35 years at the intersection of entertainment, media, and fashion, earning acclaim as a performer, host, writer, designer, and producer. Performing with his incredible jazz band, Isaac brings his signature wit and musical flair to the concert stages across the country. His multi-week residency at New York City's Café Carlyle sells out every year, and this year celebrates his 10-year anniversary of playing this iconic venue. Isaac made his Broadway debut playing Amos Hart in the musical CHICAGO in 2022. The New York Times praised him as "a founding father of a genre that fuses performance art, music and stand-up comedy."

In 2025, the cult classic documentary Unzipped—which Mizrahi co-created and stars in—celebrates its 30th anniversary at the Sundance Film Festival. He hosted the Emmy-winning Isaac Mizrahi Show for seven years, served as a judge on all seven seasons of Project Runway: All Stars, and continues to appear widely across television and film. Recent credits include Hulu's MID CENTURY MODERN on which he served as the Consulting Producer, appearances in Prime's ETOILLE, and the upcoming A24 film, MARTY SUPREME playing the role of Merle.

Mizrahi has directed productions for the Opera Theatre of St. Louis and designed for the Metropolitan Opera. He also annually narrates and directs the children's classic, PETER AND THE WOLF; a production he created for the Guggenheim Museum in New York City.

Through his company, IM Entertainment, Mizrahi and his team develop original projects in television, theater, and publishing. His New York Times bestselling memoir, I.M., was published in 2019.
